

Counts of tested correlations in the literature

Types of correlation between various forcing variables and individual carotenoid content:

positive none negative